CALM VIEW OF BANDITRY IS TAKEN BY TRADERS HERE

No Element Of Fright Apparent In Markets

FOREIGN POLICE?

Many Chinese Merchants Would Welcome Intervention

BY DAVID ARABIE

Easily the outstanding feature of financial developments in the calm view taken by the commercial community of the banditry evils in China. The kidnapping of foreigners and the holding of them to ransom, events stirring as they are have caused scarcely a ripple on the financial waters. Fright has been entirely absent from the markets, and to all intents and purposes the affairs of China go along with the same measured step as before.

The foreign and Chinese merchants and traders are fully conscious of the seriousness of the situation. Many of the Chinese merchants welcome the suggestion of foreign police of the Railway and go so far as to express their willingness and desire to see international military outposts established in important up country centers. They anticipate good consequences to trade from such occupation, and go to the extent of saying that if a precedent were taken tomorrow on the subject the farmers would support the idea wholeheartedly.

The baneful effects of brigandage and lawlessness on the trade of China in recent years have been a favorite theme with many writers. When comparison is made between the conditions existing today with those prevailing at the time of the Manchu dynasty, there is certainly room for extreme pessimism. It is admitted that recovery from a great revolution must be a continuous slow process and under many setbacks. These disheartening incidents have been recurring with such frequency that the merchant in China has well high become desperate.

EFFECT ON TRADE
It is quite evident that the lack of demand and supply has been prevented from functioning to its most by the outlawry that has been permeating the country in recent years. Instead we have had hand-to-mouth purchasing of needs, there being no anxiety on the part of the dealers to bid the markets up on themselves in their anxiety to get deliveries of all kinds of goods. The tone of quiet confidence which has prevailed in previous weeks is still existing nevertheless, although in certain directions there is rather a more hesitant feeling, prompted by the uncertainties of the political situation.

This is reflected in a curiously diverse way. The complex situation has, no doubt, reached a stage where a firm hand is necessary, and wherein only speedy, definite and, if necessary, direct action could bring China to a clear and complete recognition of her obligations to foreigners in the country and to trade in general.

LARGE TURNOVER
The trade turnover this week was not a large one, but taken as a whole it appears to have been a case of waiting a better state of affairs. There is a healthier feeling in the place goods section, a certain briskness.

Delegates Lead Discussion On Functions Of Organisation; Social Research Bureau In Shanghai Is Proposed

Yesterday's sessions of the annual meeting of the National Christian Council were preceded by a gathering held on Thursday evening by the Chinese delegates only for a discussion of their relation to this national body which is the link between the mission forces and the Chinese Christian Church just coming into existence. The meeting of this group of Chinese Christians was held in a Buddhist vegetarian restaurant on Peking Road. While no foreigners were present it is learned that the central theme of this gathering was the amount of responsibility to be taken by the Chinese for their own church. There was unmistakable evidence of this in yesterday's sessions. The topic of the morning was "The Functions of the Newly Established National Christian Council." It was noticeable that the discussion was almost entirely conducted by the Chinese delegates and an equally striking element of this meeting is the predominance of young leaders.

HOT OUTBURST IN COMMONS OVER FISHING DISPUTE

Labor And Ministerial Members Exchange Epithets

(Reuters Service)
London, May 10.—There was a warm outburst in the House of Commons today in connection with the sending of H.M.S. Harebell in relief of H.M.S. Godette to the Russian Coast to take up fishery protection duties as an outcome of the arrest of the trawler, Lord Astor.

Mr. Ronald McNeill said that the Lord Astor was arrested for fishing ten miles off the Murmansk Coast. The British Agent in Moscow had been instructed to obtain the necessary confirmation, and then to demand the immediate and unconditional release of the vessel and the repatriation of the crew. The Harebell's orders were to prevent interference with British vessels outside the three-mile limit, using force if necessary. (Loud Ministerial cheers and Labor cries of "More war.") Mr. George Lansbury (Labor), addressing the Ministerialists, exclaimed: "Why don't you send a fleet to New York, you lot of cowards? You're afraid of America!" The Speaker intervened.

In reply to an urgency question by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, voicing the grave concern of everybody and hoping that at the eleventh hour peace might be maintained between Britain and Russia, Mr. McNeill declared that nothing concerned with the despatch of H.M.S. Harebell would bear the sinister interpretation which Mr. Ramsay MacDonald feared.

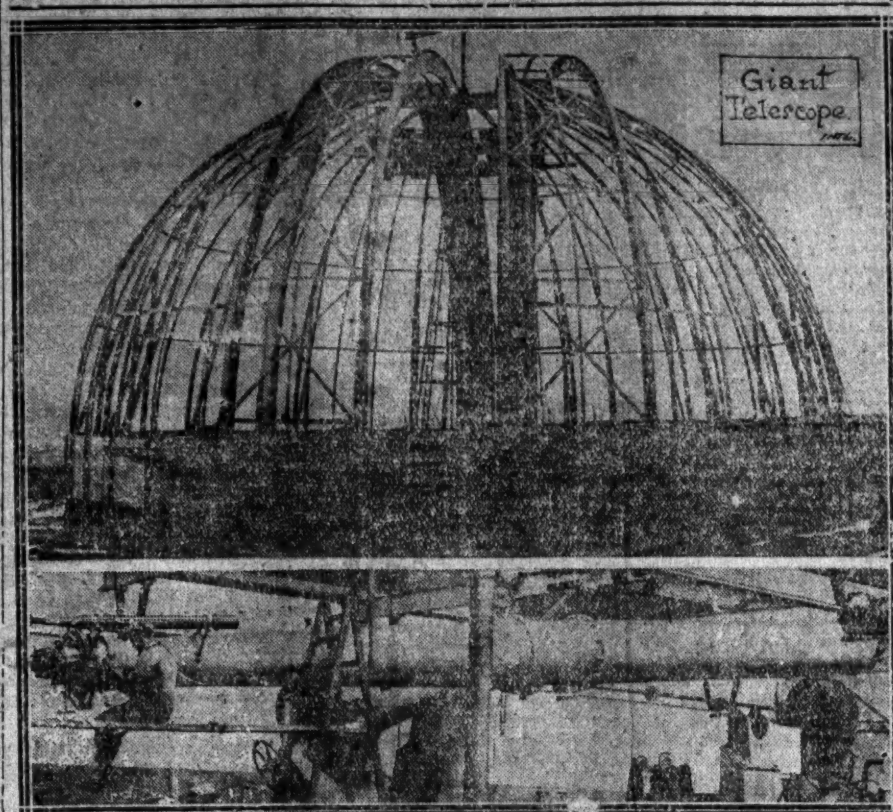

(Reuters Service)
London, May 10.—Reuters Agency learns that the reply of the Soviet Government to the British Note of April 28, protesting against the seizure of the trawler, James Johnson, several weeks ago, is couched in a moderate tone.

The Soviet claims the right to fix a twelve-mile territorial limit irrespective of international law, but is prepared to submit the matter to arbitration, provided there is no question of infringement of Russian sovereignty and independence.

(Reuters Service)
London, May 11.—A meeting of the Executive of the Parliamentary Labor Party in the House of Commons yesterday evening decided to telegraph to the Soviet Government expressing grave concern at the despatch of H.M.S. Harebell to Murmansk and begging the Russian Government to refrain from any action which would precipitate a resort to force or an outbreak of war, pending further negotiations upon the British Government's ultimatum. "We are working for peace and a full recognition of the Russian Government and view with alarm any possibility of a rupture before all means to arbitrate and negotiate are tried. We shall be responsible for a debate on the Note on Tuesday next."

The Independent Labor Party has decided to oppose any action of the Government in the way of breaking off trade relations with Russia.

Build Giant Telescope For Russia

THE framework here shown is of the 45-foot dome being built for the Nicholas Observatory, in Russia. It will house the greatest telescope in the world. The telescope itself is being built at Sir Howard Grubb's plant, at Slough, England, and will be placed on a revolving turret of steel, 45 feet in diameter. The 40-inch refracting telescope will be the largest in the world adapted to astronomical photography. When completed the telescope will weigh 45 tons. It will be operated by electricity.

SOVIET ENVOY AT LAUSANNE SLAIN BY SON OF RED VICTIM

Vorovsky And Two Other Russians Attacked

REVENGE, AIM Slayer's Father And Uncle Were Killed By Bolsheviks

(Reuters Service)
Lausanne, May 11.—There is considerable doubt whether the perpetrator of the murder of M. Vorovsky, the Soviet envoy, whose name is Conrad, is in collusion with the local Fascists. It is now reported that the act was one of private vengeance on account of the murder of Conrad's father and uncle by Bolsheviks.

Conrad is 28 years of age and was born in Petrograd. The deed created a stampede and panic in the dining hall of the hotel. Conrad fired a number of shots. One version says he remained perfectly cool and afterwards called for the police and quietly surrendered.

M. Ahrens was hit in three places. M. Vorovsky's secretary, M. Divikovsky, and not M. Dimitrieff, was severely wounded. M. Ahrens will probably recover but M. Divikovsky's condition is grave.

It is reported that Conrad exclaimed when he surrendered: "I have avenged my father and uncle and rid the country of Bolsheviks."

M. Ahrens is reported afterwards to have declared that the crime was the result of the confusion created over the actual position of the Russian Delegation at Lausanne, coupled with want of precautions on the part of the police. It appears that M. Ahrens tried to draw his revolver but he collapsed on account of his wounds.

HANKOW CAPS AS BY BANDIT SOLDIERS SAIL

Central China Metropolis Gets Scare When Former Outlaws Pass Through

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Hankow, May 11.—The brigade under Lau Yang Jen, the notorious bandit who held a number of foreign captives for ransom last year and subsequently surrendered to General Wu Peifu when his followers were allowed to be organized into one brigade, arrived here early this week from Chengchow, Honan, on its way to Kiuksiang. The forces are ordered by the Loyalist potentate to participate in the campaign against Kiangsi, which is being threatened by the expedition of General Li Lieh-chun.

Little discipline was observed. A number of women, believed to be former captives and later converted into members of the bandit families, were seen among the ranks and files of the troops. Shops of some standing were obliged to close their shutters to avoid any possible looting.

The tension was relieved, however, when the entire brigade embarked for Kiuksiang yesterday and today.

Manila Excited In Expectation Of Wood's Revelations

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Manila, May 11.—Intense excitement has been created in political circles by the publication in Washington of a despatch by the Chicago Daily News that Governor-General Wood will publish the names of the United States Senators and Representatives who have received bribes from the funds of the Independence Commission.

All political circles denounced the despatch and brand it as a malicious attempt to insure the Independence Commission. Governor-General Wood is uncommunicative regarding the matter.

THESE HERE PLAN MEETING TO CONDEMN BANDIT RAID

Huge Gathering Will Pass Resolutions Monday

LOCAL MEN WELL

Wires Received Here Following Henley's Release

DOES ANYONE KNOW?

The American Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to send clothing and necessary personal effects to the persons still held or recently released and in this connection information is asked of any of his friends regarding the residence of Mr. Henley. The Chamber representative has been called on to forward certain clothing and articles to the latest prisoner to be released and will be grateful if anyone can supply the necessary information.

A mammoth Chinese indignation meeting for the purpose of registering condemnation of all officials held to be responsible for the Lincheng bandit attack and to demand that steps be taken to prevent any similar incident in the future has been called by the local guilds to take place next Monday.

The mass-meeting was planned at a gathering yesterday of representatives of the Canton Guild, the Ningpo Association, the Shaohsin Guild, the Wenchow Association and other similar organizations.

It was decided by the meeting to present resolutions demanding the punishment of the Northern warlord Tsao Kun, Inspector-General of Shantung, Cuihui and Honan provinces; of Tien Chang-yu, Tsuchun of Shantung; Wu Yulin, Minister of Communications, and the director of the Tientsin-Peking Railway, for criminal negligence.

It was furthermore decided by the delegates to present a resolution calling for the organization of a defense body whose Lincheng, May 11.—The two boys, sons of Majors Allen and Pinger, who were taken prisoner by the bandits Sunday night, were released today and are bunking with me tonight. Both are in good health and ate ravenous suppers. They know of no captives in poor health except Musso, whose illness was serious, they said. The boys said the captives were divided into four groups of four or five each. They saw two foreign women, both of whom had been provided with Chinese clothing. Negotiations for the release of the prisoners are continuing satisfactorily.

Note.—It is believed that the "two foreign women" referred to are Mrs. Manuel Ancla Vera and one other whose identity is not clear. All the women included in the original list of captives except Mrs. Vera have been released or accounted for.

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Peking, May 11.—The following is the text of a memorandum handed to the Chinese Government by the Doyen of the Diplomatic Corps on May 9:—

"The Diplomatic Body is impatiently awaiting the result of the measures taken for the immediate release of the captives and repeats the affirmation already made that the Chinese Government will be held responsible for the lives of the foreigners who are in the hands of the brigands and has decided to claim heavy progressive indemnities for every twenty-four hours' delay in the liberation of the captives beginning at midnight on May 12."

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Peking, May 11.—The Chinese report of the release of nine captives yesterday proves to be untrue. The American Legation has received information that Mr. Henry arrived at noon at Lincheng in good condition. He reports that all the captives are well except Commander Musso, who is getting better. Mr. Henley also brought messages from Messrs. Powell, Solomon, Friedman, Rowlett, Berube and Musso. Within the last 24 hours he saw all the captives except Mr. Smith and the Mexicans, who are probably in another village.

An American doctor has arrived at Lincheng. Medical supplies and food are being brought there for the relief of those released.

PORTUGUESE WAR HERO'S ARRIVAL HERE IS DELAYED

Illness Causes General da Costa To Postpone Trip

Mr. Casanova, Consul-General for Portugal, has received a telegram from His Excellency the Governor of Macao, stating that owing to a sudden indisposition of General Sir Gomes da Costa, K.C.M.G., the date of his departure for Shanghai, which was to have been on the 16th instant, has had to be postponed to a later date, which will be duly announced.

The Portuguese community is planning a reception and a number of other affairs in honor of the distinguished warrior during his stay here.

KEEP AWAY!

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Peking, May 11.—The Legations have received information from their representatives at Lincheng to the effect that an increasing number of friends and relatives are arriving there and hampering the work and hindering the officials. The Legations express the hope that friends will cease going to Lincheng.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIET BY TOKIO IS STEP NEARER

Joffe Acknowledged As Official Moscow Representative

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, May 11.—Viscount Goto has driven in a wedge in favor of Soviet recognition. The acknowledgment of M. Joffe as the official representative of the Soviet Government, empowered to visit the passports of Japanese desiring to fish in the Maritime Provinces, is regarded as conclusive evidence of the trend of events.

At Viscount Goto's urgent request, M. Joffe cabled to Moscow requesting acceptance of the proposition emanating from the Japanese Government under which Japan and Russia would exchange "commercial commissions." This request was made six weeks ago but no response was received until Viscount Goto intervened.

Viscount Goto is now the recognized intermediary while Mr. Nagai, formerly Counselor in London, is dealing with Viscount Goto on behalf of the Government.

Russia has conceded rights to the Japanese to fish and operate in the Maritime Provinces, thus opening the way for further negotiations, which are proceeding, notwithstanding the barrage of opposition by the Conservatives, who are hopelessly outnumbered by the Liberals. Progressives and the commercial parties desiring trade concessions in Siberia.

The question of the recognition of the Soviet is assuming a very prominent position in domestic politics. Both the Government and opposition parties, however, include the most powerful commercial elements in Japan, a combination of which on April 26 signed a contract for timber concessions in Siberia involving the payment of $5,000,000 yen to the Russian Government.

function will be the protection of life and property along the railway line. Another resolution to be put before the mass meeting will carry expressions of regret to the Diplomatic Corps at Peking for "the utter incapability of the Peking authorities to protect the lives and property of foreigners in China."

LOCAL MEN WELL

With the receipt of the news here yesterday afternoon that Mr. J. A. Henley, of the China and Far East Finance and Commerce Journal, had been released, word came also that the other Shanghai men held by the outlaws are in good health with the exception of Chevalier Musso, who is reported to be improving, and that the captives are expecting to be released at an early hour.

Mr. Henry Gensburger, father of Mr. Emil Gensburger, who is held, received a wire which, besides confirming the release of Henley, stated that the latter brought a message to the effect that Messrs. Gensburger, Saphire and the brothers Elias were well and that negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily and release was looked for in a couple of days.

A message received by the American Chamber of Commerce from Mr. Carl Crow late yesterday afternoon, stated that a direct message had been received from Mr. J. B. Powell and that he was in good health. This word is thought to have been brought out by Mr. Henley.

DOCTOR IN CAMP

Little in the way of additional news was received from Lincheng by officials or individuals here during the day. Com. de Rossi, Italian Consul-General, received a telegram dispatched by Captain Ferrajolo Thursday night and stating that the foreign physician was getting in touch with the captives and other reports of yesterday tended to indicate that the physician had got through the lines.

Mr. Paul Page Whitlam, of the Asia Development Company whose men were first on the scene in the relief work and did service which brought warm expressions of appreciation from American Ministers Schurman, arrived in Shanghai yesterday morning, after himself going down to Lincheng and Tsaochuan to survey the situation. Mr. Whitlam had a conference with Minister Schurman and journalist, who, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is at present making a pleasure trip through China, was the guest of a number of Chinese friends who had known him in Australia at dinner at the Great Eastern Hotel on Wednesday evening.

Mr. G. Kwok Bew, of Wing On Co., presided, and proposed the health of the guest, referring to his valuable assistance rendered Australian Chinese in his capacity as a journalist. Many of those present had known him for over 20 years, and the dinner was given to enable them to demonstrate that his good work was still appreciated. Mr. Wise, in acknowledging the toast, said he felt gratified at the honor given him, and was certainly pleased to meet many old friends after so many years. He desired to thank them for the opportunities that had been afforded him to closely study the commercial and industrial life of Shanghai, and the information he had gained would help him to confound many of the prejudices that existed against China in Australia, and which was largely responsible for laws of a discriminating character against the Chinese.

Included in the company were Mr. and Mrs. G. Kwok Bew, Mr. and Mrs. Ma Ying Piu, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gockson, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Mee, Miss Daisy Kwok, Mrs. E. G. Wise, Miss Jean Wise, Messrs. D. Leong Chong, C. Chee Sung, and others. Mr. and Mrs. Wise, during their stay in Shanghai, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kwok Bew.

Obituary

MR. THOMAS JONES

A large gathering of his many journalistic and other friends attended the funeral of Mr. Thomas Jones, Reuter's commercial news manager, who was cremated at Bubbling Well Cemetery yesterday. The Very Rev. Dean C. J. F. Symons was the officiating clergyman, and among those at the chapel were Mr. W. Turner, general manager of Reuter's in the Far East; Mr. A. Watts, chief editor; Mr. A. E. C. Thompson, Mr. T. Sahara, Mr. A. W. Graham-Brown, Capt. Chapman Leach, Mr. A. Aleimast and Mr. C. E. Sheppard.

Mr. Jones was only 35 years of age and was born in London and was educated at Owen's School, taking up black-and-white work and furnishing illustrations for the "Illustrated Press." His father was an enthusiastic member of the Japan Society and Mr. Jones developed an interest in the country and came out to Tokyo in the summer of 1914 to take up a post in the Japanese Middle School. He was a close Japanese student and became proficient in the language. Later he became affiliated with the Japan Times and Mail, and then joined the Kokusai News Agency, coming to Shanghai as their representative in 1919. At the time of his death he was business manager for Reuter's.

Mr. Jones was possessed of a charming personality, he was an entertaining and able conversationalist and had a fine baritone voice which had been heard with pleasure at many amateur performances. His many friends, both here and in Japan will experience a sincere sorrow with his passing.

Many beautiful floral tributes, which after the funeral service, were placed on the graves of deceased British sailors, were sent by—"Mabel" (his sister), Sir. Roderick Jones (managing director of Reuter's in London), Mr. and Mrs. W. Turner, "An Old Friend," Reuter's London and Shanghai staffs, the Chinese staff at Shanghai, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Bickel, Mr. C. F. O. Jackson, Mr. T. Sahara, Mr. W. J. Cox, Mr. Higashikawa (Osaka representative of Kokusai), Mr. J. M. O. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, Mr. J. M. H. prophetic note was struck by Miss Tseng, principal of the Yih-fang Girls' School, Changsha, who stated that while patriotism has been the outstanding characteristic of the present generation in China, internationalism will be that of the generation just ahead and the church must equip itself to international relations of China in the nearest possible sense.

ACTION ON OPIUM

The opium traffic was singled out for special attention in yesterday's discussion as a crucial issue calling again for a vigorous campaign of action. It was recommended that the Church should take strong measures to quicken the public conscience regarding the opium evil and to demonstrate to the friends of China who are working on this problem from the outside that there is a strong national feeling upon it in China itself.

The conference breaks up at 4 o'clock each afternoon for tea and thus there is an opportunity for those wishing to get in touch with any of the delegates to find them in the rooms of the Union Church during this half-hour interval.

The latter part of the afternoon yesterday was given to the discussion of the "Interpretation of Christianity for the China of today." The subject was presented by the Rev. Lindel P. Tsen, General Secretary of the Chung Hua Sheng Kung Hui, Wuhu, and Miss Clara Lambert, Principal of the C. M. S. Girls' School, Foochow. There was evidence throughout the discussion of the increasingly large part the Chinese themselves are playing in presenting Christianity to their countrymen thus ensuring an expression of Christianity adapted to China's special psychology and needs as compared with a purely Western form.

TODAY'S SESSION

Today's session will be given up entirely to a consideration of the strengthening of the local churches of China and at 5:30 the conference will adjourn to attend the laying of the corner stone of the new Missions' Building. MR. THOMAS JONES

A large gathering of his many journalistic and other friends attended the funeral of Mr. Thomas Jones, Reuter's commercial news manager, who was cremated at Bubbling Well Cemetery yesterday. The Very Rev. Dean C. J. F. Symons was the officiating clergyman, and among those at the chapel were Mr. W. Turner, general manager of Reuter's in the Far East; Mr. A. Watts, chief editor; Mr. A. E. C. Thompson, Mr. T. Sahara, Mr. A. W. Graham-Brown, Capt. Chapman Leach, Mr. A. Aleimast and Mr. C. E. Sheppard.

Mr. Jones was only 35 years of age and was born in London and was educated at Owen's School, taking up black-and-white work and furnishing illustrations for the "Illustrated Press." His father was an enthusiastic member of the Japan Society and Mr. Jones developed an interest in the country and came out to Tokyo in the summer of 1914 to take up a post in the Japanese Middle School. He was a close Japanese student and became proficient in the language. Later he became affiliated with the Japan Times and Mail, and then joined the Kokusai News Agency, coming to Shanghai as their representative in 1919. At the time of his death he was business manager for Reuter's.

British Reply To German Note To Propose Conference

(Reuter's Service)
London, May 10.—Reuter's Agency learns that the final touches are being put to the British reply to the German reparations offer, which is separate from but understood to be much on the same lines as the Italian reply, now in course of preparation.

The Allies, including the United States, will probably receive a copy of the British Note, and London and Rome will exchange copies of their respective Notes when they are delivered to Germany.

Replying to questions in the House of Commons, Mr. Stanley Baldwin said that the Government did not propose to exchange views with regard to the German offer with the United States, who did not claim reparations.

(Reuter's Service)
Paris, May 10.—The Petit Parisien learns that the British and Italian replies to the German Note will propose a conference, to which America will be invited, to settle the Ruhr and reparations questions.

(Reuter's Service)
London, May 10.—It is reported from Mayence that a court-martial has sentenced twenty high German railway officials to terms of imprisonment, ranging from 10 to 15 years, on charges of espionage and inciting railwaymen to resist the orders of the authorities.

(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, May 10.—At Essen the municipal workers and tramway employees' organisations have decided on a 5-hour strike of protest tomorrow.

The station-master at Merklings has been arrested on a charge of sabotage.

The miners on strike at Dueseldorf have resumed work.

The Mangelmann Rehrwerk at Duisburg have refused to pay an overdue bonus, more than 25,000 workers have declared a strike.

(Reuter's Service)
Berlin, May 10.—The Executive Councils of the German Trade Unions have issued a manifesto declaring that they are ready to collaborate in the payment of the reparations to the limits of possibility but that the passive resistance of the workers in the Ruhr is a spontaneous movement, which cannot be suppressed even by the most cruel force, and will continue as long as the illegal situation in the Ruhr and in the Rhine lasts.

(Reuter's Service)
London, May 10.—The Ruhr again monopolised attention in the House of Commons today on the occasion of Sir John Simon (Liberal) moving the reduction of the Foreign Office vote to draw attention to the decrees, promulgated in the Saar Valley, imposing heavy fines and imprisonment for criticising the Treaty of Versailles or the administration under it, including the League of Nations.

Mr. Asquith challenged the legality of the decrees which had gone forth in the name of the League of Nations. He described it as "a more despotic piece of work than anything in the annals of Russia and the greatest blow ever struck against League authority."

Lord Robert Cecil demanded withdrawal of this "action worthy of Prussian militarism." He regretfully expressed the opinion that joint Anglo-French action was impossible in view of the last French Note.

Mr. Ronald McNeill, the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, replying, agreed that the decree itself had not a defender in the House of Commons, but he doubted the wisdom of immediately bringing the decree before the League and uncompromisingly denouncing it. He thought that the actual procedure of the French administration had been greatly exaggerated.

Mr. McNeill declined to make a broad statement regarding the Ruhr pending the despatch of the reply to the German Note, but declared that the bed-rock of British policy remained the maintenance of the Anglo-French alliance.

The motion was rejected by 238 votes to 143.

FOCH LEAVES
(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, May 10.—Marshal Foch left Warsaw for Cracow today.

CHEKA ON RAMPAGE
(Reuter's Service)
Warsaw, May 10.—It is reported from Riga that the Cheka has arrested 1,200 persons in Georgia. Two hundred of them have been shot.

LABOR MEMBER SAYS LOST SHIP WAS DEATH TRAP

Vessel Long Known To Be Unseaworthy, He Charges

(Reuter's Service)
London, May 10.—Serious allegations were contained in a question asked in the House of Commons today by Mr. Thomas Johnston (Labour) as to whether the Board of Trade was aware that letters, written at the beginning of March by officers of the British India steamer, Okara, had been received in Britain declaring that the ship was unseaworthy. Mr. Johnston asked whether some of the plates were only one-eighth of an inch thick, whether holes could be hammered into them and whether the life-boats at boat drill were filled with water.

Lieutenant-Colonel Albert Buckley, the Parliamentary Secretary to the Overseas Trade Department, undertook to investigate. He added that, as far as could be ascertained, the vessel had not been examined for many years as she had not sailed in home waters.

The Speaker informed Mr. Johnston that he must give notice of a question whether any authority in India was examining British vessels engaged in coastal traffic.

Brilliant Party For British King

(Reuter's Service)
Rome, May 11.—King George and Queen Mary were entertained to a banquet at the British Embassy last night. The guests included Signor Mussolini and other Ministers. A brilliant reception followed, which was attended by the whole of official and aristocratic Rome.

Cotton Wages To Stand Till 1924

(Reuter's Service)
London, May 10.—A conference of representatives of every section of the cotton industry, both employers and operatives, at Manchester today agreed that the present wage rates should be stable at least till January 25, 1924, whereafter the employers would be free to reopen the question, on giving one month's notice. The operatives agreed not to apply for a general advance before September 25, 1924.

Farley To Head U. S. Ship Board

(Reuter's Service)
Washington, May 11.—It is announced that Mr. Edward P. Farley, Vice-President of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, has been appointed Chairman of the United States Shipping Board in succession to Mr. Albert D. Lasker.

Banditry Fails To Disturb Trade

being noticeable. On the other hand, there is a lull in the cotton and yarn markets, the trading in the latter showing little expansion over previous weeks. The important province of Szechuen has kept away with the consequence result that the week's sales of cotton yarn comprised small lots to dealers from other provinces. Although it is as yet early to think of the next season's crops of cotton and rice the purchasing of manufactured yarn will be delayed until the sowing of cotton and rice is completed. The arrivals of cotton are getting scarcer, but prices are slightly lower than last week.

The rice market has been fairly steady, with cargo moving into the interior rather smoothly, and Chinese buyers, who had previously contracted cargo are honoring their commitments. Arrivals have been small, a few thousand tons coming from Rangoon and Saigon. Present stocks in Shanghai are about 20,000 tons. Some 1,000 to 1,500 tons have moved into Hangchow and Ningpo. Hangchow is the distributing center for Shaoching and Kashing districts, while Ningpo is another distributing center in the south-east part of Chekiang province. No new business is reported owing to the high rates prevailing in the consuming markets, higher than local quotations. It is expected that within another month there should transpire a large trade in rice. Present Shanghai supplies are considered light.

Actual trading in new crop Chinese wheat has not yet commenced, but speculators have been known to indulge in a little pecking at about Tls. 5.30 per picul, which is almost the same as the opening rate last season. Reports coming into Shanghai speak of a good crop, but a great deal will depend upon the state of the weather during the remainder of this month. Only a small amount of business is being transacted in flour.

Arrivals of imported flour are decreasing and with the prospects of Chinese wheat coming on the market shortly importations of American and other flour into

China should cease for the time being. Local stocks are also decreasing, owing to a good demand from Tientsin, the Chekiang Province, Swatow and Amoy. Shanghai supplies are estimated at about 200,000 sacks. Ruling quotations for American flour are considered too high for local needs. There is generally a better feeling in the flour market, and a good brisk trade should be witnessed in the course of the next few weeks.

Seattle and Tacoma flour exports to the Orient in March were 299,180 bbls, as follows: to Shanghai, 100,549; Hongkong, 84,207; Yokohama, 32,375; Tokyo, 4,875; Kobe, 556; Dairen, 5,010; Tientsin, 500; Swatow, 24,625; Amoy, 12,000; Foochow, 8,200; Manila, 21,509; Cebu, 4,150; Hanoi, 4,125.

FUKIEN CHIEF IS ISOLATED; SEEKS FRESH ALLIANCE

New Pact Between Sun Chuan-fang And Kuomintang Expected Shortly

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS
Fuchow, May 11.—The defeat of Shen Hung-yi, Tull of Kwangtung, in the hands of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, is making great changes in the Fuchow political situation. A strong offensive alliance has been concluded between General Sun Chuan-fang and Ling Hu for the purpose of conducting an anti-Kiangsi expedition.

General Wang Yung-chien, who for some time has been about his political allegiance, has definitely put his lot with the Kuomintang leaders on account of the sudden change. On the other hand, General Sun Chuan-fang, Tull of Fukien, is seeking an alliance with the Constitutional party through the good office of Wang Yung-chien, because he has found himself to be isolated in Fukien.

When General Sun entered Fuchow, he depended on Tsai Chang-hsuan of Kiangsi and Shen Hung-yi of Kwangtung for assistance. Today Shen is routed, while Tsai is unable to furnish any reinforcements or supplies. Within the capital of Fukien, Sun is being hampered in his duties by Admirals Liu Kwan-hsien and Sah Cheng-ping, neither of whom approves his appointment as Tull; while without, Generals Hsu and Chwang are watching for opportunities.

Placed in this predicament, General Sun has offered through Wang Yung-chien, to join the Kuomintang alliance in Fukien. As a result, negotiations are being carried on between representatives of Sun and Chwang on the terms of the new combination; and, it is understood, a pact will be signed shortly.

Another cause of Sun's anxiety to come to terms with Chwang is because of the presence of General Lu Hsin-pang's forces between Fuchow and Yenping. General Lu is at the head of 7,000 crack soldiers of the Fukien self-government army with headquarters at Yuchihien. He is closely allied to Chwang and in case of military operations, Lu could make Sun's seat of government in Fuchow decidedly uncomfortable.

Local gentry learns with relief of the proposed alliance, which would, they believe, put an end to further warfare, or outside aggression, in the province, at least for some time.

Row In Canton Over Salt Taxes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Canton, May 9.—The foreign District Salt Inspector, Mr. W. N. Ferguson, upon instruction from the Chief Inspector, Sir Ernest C. C. Wilton, in Peking has again withheld the official seal, deposited it with the British Consulate-General and has suspended the collection of the salt tax in protest against Dr. Sun Yat-sen's appointing a Chinese Inspector. Dr. Sun Yat-sen's appointee, Mr. Ni-hong, has announced that the collection of the tax will go on as usual.

Mr. Tang Shao-yi visited Dr. Sun Yat-sen today and afterwards departed for Shanghai. It is stated that he expects to return within six weeks.

The report that the Northern troops have evacuated Shikwan is now confirmed. Since the report of the kidnapping of the foreigner, Mr. Rowson, in south-western Kwangtung and also the bandit outrage in Shantung have given rise to unfavorable comment by foreigners, the Canton Government has given special orders for vigorous suppression of piracy and brigandage.

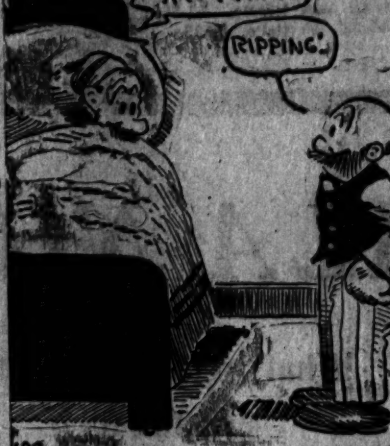

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Canton, May 10.—General Lin Yu, who recently pledged his loyalty to Dr. Sun Yat-sen, was asked or given an order to fight General Shen Hung-yi but he refused. He has now again turned against Dr. Sun Yat-sen and is beginning an attack on the pro-Sun Yat-sen forces at Walchow and is cutting off communications. Dr. Sun is sending reinforcements to General Hsu Chung-chi, who is commanding the Cantonese forces at Walchow.

The Salt Inspector, Mr. Ng Nie-hung, is officiating and collecting the salt tax in spite of the withdrawal of the foreign Inspector, Mr. W. N. Ferguson.

News Brevities

Mr. A. Covey, the Coroner, Registrar and Official Receiver of the British Court, retires today and joins the firm of Seth, Mancell and McLure. His successor arrives here from London next week.

A small Chinese girl was found wandering on the streets Thursday and when questioned by Police it was found out that she ran away from her home in Quansan and walked here. She was brought up at the Mixed Court yesterday before Assessor Whitmore and Magistrate Tsang and was turned over by them to the Doot of Hope, who are willing to take care of her.

A. P. Frank Tanenbaum was charged at the Mixed Court yesterday morning with stealing a platinum chain valued at $1,000. The Police asked for remand as no further instructions from Tsingtao where the case originated have been received. The hearing was adjourned and the defendant was released on personal bond. Mr. W. S. Fleming appeared for defense.

Mr. Maifland appeared at the Mixed Court yesterday for the Police in charging the proprietor of the Hongki Dairy, 142 North Szechuen Road, with adulterating cream to the extent of 23 percent milk. Owing to previous charges of the same nature Assessor Whitmore and Magistrate Tsang fined him $100, with a warning. The defendant stated that he would return the fine at the end of the month as he did not want to go on with the business.

A lad of 18, by the name of Chung Ding Foo, was found hanging and dead at about 6 a.m. yesterday at 112 Woosung Road, where he resided with his married sister. There appeared to have been trouble over money matters. The deceased retired as usual about 7 p.m. Thursday. No inquest necessary was the verdict returned by Messrs. Whitmore and Tsang yesterday at the Mixed Court.

Wong San, a steward on the a.s. President Taft was brought up at the Mixed Court yesterday before Messrs. Whitmore and Tsang on a charge of having in his possession on May 10, at about 9 p.m. 2 Mauser pistols and 201 rounds of ammunition. The accused, when arrested, said that the arms were found by him in the cabin 109, and on enquiries it was found out that an American lady travelled from America to Hongkong in the cabin. Later on the accused said that he found the arms in cabin No. 115 under the bed, and it was found that there were two ladies travelling there. Mr. L. K. Kentwell appeared on behalf of the defendant and pleaded guilty. The accused was sent to prison for six months and the pistols and ammunition confiscated.

Information from Hongkong is to the effect that Mr. Charles Workman's death is believed to have been due to ptomaine poisoning. He attended the St. George's Day ball at Kobe on April 24, where one of the dishes he partook of was crab, and this is believed to have caused ptomaine poisoning.

Mrs. H. H. Fox arrived in Shanghai Thursday from Peking, having travelled by the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. It is understood that she is shortly proceeding on a trip to Java.

The annual general meeting of the Shanghai Branch of the China Association will be held at the Shanghai Club on Tuesday, May 15, at 5 p.m.

Among the arrivals at the "Alce Hotel" are Mr. Edward Friedman, America; Mr. W. Lyons, Peking; Mr. Pries, Nanking; Mr. H. B. Cunningham, Nanking; Mr. Alex. M. Peabody, Peking; Mr. Y. Lederlin, Peking, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Rabb, Hankow.

The annual examination for St. Andrew's Society Bursars will be held in the Public School for Girls, Boone Road, today at 2 p.m. The following schools entered lists of competitors: Public School for Boys 11, Thomas Hanbury School for Boys 3; French Municipal School 1, St. Joseph's Institute 2; Total 30. The examination will be conducted by R. G. Dowie, F. E. I. S., and will last about four hours. Teas being served at 4 p.m.

A graduating pianoforte recital will be given at the McTear School, 1 Edinburgh Road, at 8 p.m. May 17 by Miss Wang Li Faung.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ezra and child are among the passengers leaving today on the President Lincoln for San Francisco.

The annual meeting of the Men's Total Abstinence League is to be held on Wednesday Afternoon, at 5:30, at 12 Jinkee Road, when the future of the League will be up for discussion.

Among passengers who arrived here from Hongkong by the steamer President Lincoln yesterday were Major-General Sir John and Lady Fowler and Misses L. and M. Fowler, who are proceeding to Wellesley. Major-General Fowler is Chief Commanding Officer of the British Forces in China.

The new Lodge of the Girls' Friendly Society will be opened this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Herbert J. Molony.

Mr. Fletcher S. Brockman, of the International Committee Y.M.C.A. and first National General

Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in China, will address the Sunday Service League at 5 p.m. tomorrow on "The Makers of a New Civilization." Miss Bernice Austin will sing.

The American Returned Students' Union held a fellowship dinner last night. Mr. H. Y. Moh, president, was toastmaster and short speeches were made by Dr. W. S. New, Loy Chang, Andrew Zang and Wang Kwang. A musical program was also rendered. Over 80 members attended.

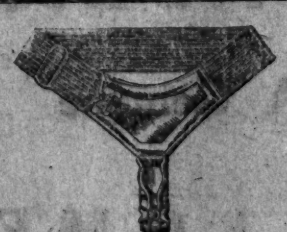

Mrs. Charles Eytan, better known to thousands of motion picture fans as Kathleen Williams, heroine of many thrilling serial films, is among the passengers sailing for San Francisco today by the President Lincoln.

Arrivals at the Palace Hotel include Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cadman and child, from Tientsin; Mrs. T. E. Watts, from Tientsin; Capt. St. Clair Smith, U. S. Naval Attaché, from Peking; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Currie, from Swatow; Mr. W. T. Thornley, from Nanking; Dr. E. A. M. Gendreau, U.S.N., U.S.S. Sacramento; Mr. A. C. MacKenzie and Miss MacKenzie, from Nanking, and Miss P. R. Gulton, from Nanking.

Bank To Liquidate Depositors Get Half

(Reuter's Service)
Calcutta, May 10.—The shareholders of the Alliance Bank of India unanimously passed a resolution voluntarily to liquidate. The proposal to appoint an auditor of the Imperial Bank of India as liquidator was rejected, but the Chairman said that, if the depositors were to get the benefit of an immediate payment of 50 percent, the liquidation must be supervised by the Imperial Bank of India, which the appointed liquidator agreed.

East China Basketball Team To Carry China's Colors At Osaka Games

Quint From North Eliminated In Fast Match
Here: Four St. John's Regulars And One
Graduate On Five

BY H. S. CHANG
The East China Basketball team won the Chinese National Championship yesterday afternoon when they defeated the players from North China in a thrilling game at the Chinese Public Recreation Ground at West Gate, thereby gaining the privilege of representing China in the Far Eastern Olympic Games. The score was 24-17, which is a fair measure of the difference in the basketball ability of the two sections of the country.

The game was staged under ideal weather conditions and before a crowd of several hundred people who watched China's best players in action with keen interest. Although there was a little roughness here and there, play was fast and clean on the whole. Mr. Don, physical director of Hongkong "Y", handled the game well, and it was through his tact and quick decisions that rough playing was kept at a minimum.

It was the first time North China has met defeat in the annals of inter-sectional competition in basketball. In previous years North China always had won the honor of representing China and they did well every time, defeating the Filipino and Japanese teams.

The game yesterday opened with a few minutes' of scrappy play, due to the over anxiety and nervousness on both sides. Y. T. Hwang of the North China team was the first to score after about five minutes of play, and the first goal was immediately followed by another by Liu, the northern left forward. East China then returned the attack. Tsau, the crack left forward, tossed the ball into the net at a very difficult angle and opened the score for the winners. A foul shot was then awarded and was scored. Then the Northerners piled three goals in rapid succession, and it looked like that the Shanghai men would not catch up. But Tsau succeeded in scoring one goal which was followed by another on foul line and near the end of the first half time, Tsang also contributed one. The interval saw the score as 10 to 9, with the North China team leading.

The second half saw something different in the East China quintet. They evidently had changed their system of attack. Instead of long and high passes which they used in the first half, they now played with short and low passes. This change showed results for they were soon ahead of the northern team in the score. Every one of the team succeeded in netting one or two goals. By virtue of this win, the East China team not only captured the national title in basketball, but also gained the right of going to Osaka tomorrow to fight with teams of Japan and Philippine Islands. It is to be remembered that the East China team is composed of four St. John's regulars and one graduate.

The summaries:
North China East China
T. H. Chang 11 C. H. Tsau
H. E. Liu 11 K. L. Oo
C. Y. Liang 6 C. T. Zung
B. C. Lee 15 F. S. Tsang

Goals from fouls: Tsau 4, Liu 1. Goals from floor: Tsau 3, Chang 3, Oo 2, Yung 2, Tsang 2, Yiu 3, Li 1, Hwang 1. Time—4:20 minute periods. Referee: Don.

BASEBALL SUNDAY

Manager Gallop of the Shanghai baseball team announces a game for tomorrow, beginning at 3 p.m. Sharp, between the Shanghai team and the nine from the U. S. S. Rainbow, now in port. The locals have had some good practicing weather this week and ought to be in fair condition. Work will start next week on the grand stand and club house.

H'KONG CRICKET TEAM HERE FOR INTERPORT GAME

Elaborate Program Of Entertainment Ahead; Play Wednesday

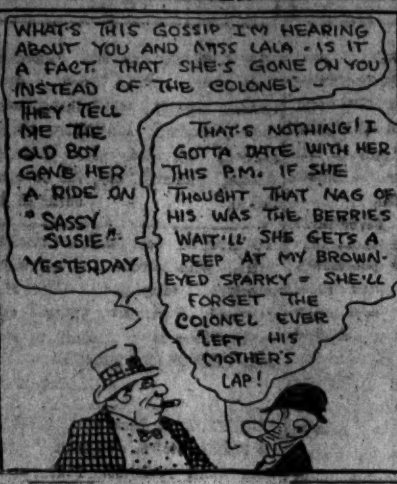

The Hongkong Interport cricket team, which was due to arrive here last night, will be guests this evening at a vaudeville show at the Lyceum Theater in the first of a series of entertainments that are to be given in their honor while they are here.

The Interport game will be played on Wednesday afternoon, and the visitors are to have the use of the field Monday and Tuesday for practice. The Shanghai team, consisting of Possibles and Probables, will play again tomorrow, after which the final selections for the Interport representatives will be made.

The visiting players are due to face a stiff schedule of social engagements while they are here. Following the party at the theater tonight there will be a dance at the Astor House on Monday evening, and on Tuesday evening there will be another dance at the Country Club. On Friday the Interport dinner will be held at the Shanghai Club, and on Saturday there will be another theater party at the Lyceum, the proceeds of which will be donated to the London Hospital.

The Shanghai candidates for cricket honors were at it again yesterday, perfect weather having made the pitch very fast. The batsmen showed good form and were facing them all over the lot. It is a continuation of this game that is to be played on Sunday.

New York by losing one and Chicago by dropping two has stopped what promised to be a runaway race in the National League. Philadelphia is in third place and Cincinnati and Pittsburgh are tied for fourth position. Boston jumped into sixth place by defeating the Giants in a heavy hitting game. St. Louis beat Pittsburgh but is still in seventh place. Brooklyn occupies the lowly cellar berth and is getting deeper in the rut every day. Big scores have taken a slump in the National but New York continues to figure in some hard hitting contests.

New York dropped to third position in the American League, Detroit moving up a notch. Cleveland won two and is firmly in first place. The Indians are still keeping up their winning streak and have developed into real contenders although it is doubtful if they can stand the pace Philadelphia is in the fourth place by a good margin with Washington and Boston tied for fifth place. St. Louis and Chicago are still slumping badly and fighting it out for the cellar position.

Cotton Report

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton.—We had an uneventful week in the cotton market with the extreme range in quotations at three quarters of a cent and which closed yesterday at a decline of practically half a cent as compared with last week's closing quotation. Receipts from the interior marts are still small and in consequence of this the predominating sentiment continues to be in favor of steady prices, but the uncertainty which has been felt in the future, has prevented the broadening of speculation. It looks to us, therefore, as if the market has been pulled to a standstill. We do not wish to be enthusiastic on the bear side, but we think that the recent advance is all that can be expected and that the next fluctuation of consequence is more likely to be downward. For the present, therefore, we advise selling conservatively on little bulges and taking profits on weak markets.

The chief interest from now on will be centered on the planting of the new crop, preparatory work commencing in this connection within the next few days and we shall continue to report on the progress from week to week as we have done in previous years.

Yarn.—The market during the past week has had a steady undertone. Prices declined one to two cents as compared with last week's level. In all some 7,000 to 8,000 bales of various counts and bales of local products have been bought up by Swatow, Weihaiwei, Chefoo, Tsingtao, Kiangsu, Hankow, Wuhu, Changsha, Fukiien and Newchwang dealers. For the present, we are of the opinion that the market will be quiet until the planting of rice and cotton is over, and then we anticipate that farmers will be more interested in the manufactured product.

SPUNTS REPORT
Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their weekly report on the cotton market:

China Cotton.—Prices during the past week have shown a somewhat easier undertone and what ever transactions have taken place were done on a very small scale. Mills in general evince very little interest in any offerings even at comparatively moderate rates and appear to be sufficiently stocked to carry them over to the time when developments in the progress of the new season crop, which is now about to be planted, become more discernible. The yarn situation has so far not manifested any improvement and a major portion of the Chinese Mills have still further curtailed their spindle with a view to induce more favorable conditions for their output. Prices in Mid-Americana and Indians, though showing lower figures than in the preceding week are offset by the easier tone in the exchange rates thus nullifying any advantage that could have been gained otherwise. The hitherto bullish attitude of holders of the balance of this season's stock though undergoing some modification, displays as yet no decided inclination to a conversion to bearishness. Tone of the market Easy.

Reception Held For Olympic Athlete.

A reception to the Chinese athletes who are to take part in the Far Eastern Olympic Game at Osaka this month was held at the Chinese Y. W. C. A. 11a Quinsan Road, Thursday afternoon. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. were hosts. Mrs. John Y. Lee was in charge of the refreshments and Mr. C. H. Wang was chairman of the afternoon. The girls who are representing China in volleyball and tennis leave Shanghai this noon for Japan. The players will be accompanied by Miss Vori Barger, Miss Kan Ts and Dr. Beale Coffin, members of the Faculty of the Y. W. C. A. School of Hygiene and Physical Education.

The members and friends of the Chinese Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a musical tea at 11a Quinsan Road Friday afternoon. Vocal and instrumental music composed the program. The delegates representing Shanghai Y. W. C. A. at the Y. W. C. A. National Convention which is to be held in Hangchow in October were elected at this time.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maltland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange:—After slight fluctuations the London price of silver at 32 1/2 d. is 1-16 up on last week. The quotation for forward delivery is 32 11-16 d. The New-York/London cross-rate is down to 46 1/2. Our official quotation for T/T on London has remained unchanged at 3-1/2 throughout the week. The volume of exchange business passing has been small and we close with an easy tendency. For T/T on London 3-1/2 13-16 for May falling to 3-1/2 1/2 July/Dec. is the open market quotation.

We have news of a further Ts. 2,000,000 value in shipped from America, making about Ts. 7,000,000 value to arrive this month. Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:—
Sycee and Bar Silver Ts. 23,560,000 a decrease of Ts. 733,000.

WEATHER

Cloudy and warm but rather fine weather. Thunderstorms in the valley. Unsteady breezes with local calm and mist over our coast. A depression will cross northern China eastward.

The Calmer Judgment

IN view of the somewhat overwrought and hysterical demands and suggestions emanating from various quarters as a result of the bandit outrage, it is to be hoped that the community will be somewhat calmed down by the well-reasoned and deliberate statement of the American Minister in yesterday morning's CHINA PRESS.

But before going into that, it may be well to call attention to the fact that the bandits, considering that they are bandits and also holding in view the attendant circumstances of their flight with their captives, have not acted so very badly. They have released the women and children and the accounts from these of their experiences while captive, and also the messages smuggled out by those still remaining captive, reveal as good treatment as was, and is, possible. The bandits so far appear to be rather humane as bandits go and we can only express the hope that they will continue so to be until the present negotiations are consummated and their quarry released.

And now for Minister Schurman's views. In reply to questions put to him by our representative, he said that the employment of American troops in connection with the Lincheng affair had at no time been considered; that the officials of Shanghai were doing their utmost to effect the release of the captives; that negotiations were proceeding along favorable lines and that both foreigners and Chinese considered the application of force at this time inadvisable.

Speaking for the future, he said that China being a sovereign nation, it is up to her to eliminate her own banditry and if she does not succeed in doing it, her own people, as in the present instance, will be the chief sufferers.

In reply to the direct question as to foreign intervention based on this occurrence, Dr. Schurman said that if, as he anticipated, the Chinese authorities were successful in bringing about the liberation of the captives, he could not see what there would be left for foreign nations to do.

Dr. Schurman said further that the cause produce like effects, and as most of the bandits in China are ex-soldiers, further incidents of this nature are to be expected. They would be dealt with as the circumstances warranted.

The last remark is not optimistic but the interview as a whole is. It is evident that the doctor entertains the hope that China will be able to work out her problem. If she can't do it, what nations in the world, having consideration for their own domestic peace and stability, can do it for her?

A Philosophy Of Clothes

In the best book he ever wrote, "Houseboat Days in China," Mr. J. O. P. Bland devotes a chapter to "The Hypnotic Influence of the Putzu." The putzu being, we may explain for the sake of the uninitiated, the so-called "mandarin squares" that are bought up so eagerly by tourists to put on their cushions, says the Far Eastern Times. In this very daring and brilliant chapter, which Mr. Bland modestly attributes to a Soochow missionary, the thesis is put forward that China's success in diplomacy, which is described as being unbroken from the Treaty of Nanjing to the Protocol of 1901, had been largely due to the fascination, amounting to hypnotism, exercised over the mind of the foreign diplomat, great or small, by the peacocks and cranes and other beasts so elaborately embroidered on the breasts and backs of the old-time mandarin's gown; and Mr. Bland goes so far as to assert that were a Chinese mandarin to work in his shirt-sleeves he would accomplish nothing. The glamour would have gone, the glory would have departed. The thesis is very ingeniously worked out; but we never imagined that anybody would take it seriously. It is taken seriously, however. A southern contemporary devotes a leading article to the subject. "Beginning with what is apparently of small importance," says our contemporary, "there is much to be said for the opinion of a correspondent that one of the minor causes (of present evil times in China) is the abandonment by Chinese magistrates and other civilian officials of imposing official costume. Certainly in the old days a Chinese magistrate in full official costume, in his grand hat with its peacock feather and larger jewel or button indicating his rank, wearing long capacious robes of silk and satin richly embroidered, and surrounded by a retinue of underlings and attendants, was a dignified, and to the common people, an awe-inspiring figure. Now his outward glory has departed, and with it his power." Mr. Bland suggested that the way to beat China at diplomacy would be to spend half a million or so clothing every Chinese official who had anything to do with foreign affairs in frock coats and silk hats, and patent leather shoes and spats. If our contemporary wants to see Chinese official authority restored, it should open a subscription list with the object of reclothing Chinese officialdom in what our contemporary evidently thinks its right mind. We are not forgetful, however, of the fact that when the Chinese official did wear the gorgeous attire and was surrounded by his many attendants our contemporary was one of the readiest to sneer at "tinsel and tatterdemajons." Incidentally our contemporary ascribes the present mighty power of the military men to their gorgeous uniforms. All that is necessary to end the present troubles among the military, then, is surely to buy one of them an outfit that would so greatly outshine that of any other function that all the rest, like Joseph's sheaves, would bow before him. If only all the problems of life were as easily solved as that!

Correspondence

A TYPIST'S COMPETITION

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir: With reference to the correspondence in the local press regarding a typewriting contest in Shanghai, I shall be pleased to give every assistance possible in organizing such a competition.

I have in my possession the rules governing the World's Amateur Typewriting Championship and other matter, but might I suggest that in the event of the scheme maturing, the use of these rules or any modification should be decided by a committee elected by local typists themselves?

For this purpose, therefore, I shall be pleased to place the Remington School premises at the disposal of those interested for the purpose of a meeting on Friday next at 5:30 p.m. and will further notify this in the advertisement columns of local papers.

Further, on behalf of the school, I have pleasure in offering as a prize (to be disposed of as a committee may think fit) a new Remington Portable typewriter. Thanking you for your space.

Yours etc.,

Hugh Farmer,

Principal, The Remington Typewriter School, 3 Kiang Road, Shanghai, May 11, 1923.

The Collapse At Tsingtao

A Hopeless Outlook

The following appearing in the Far Eastern Times, on the state of the Police at Tsingtao, are sufficiently startling in themselves; but they have an added significance in view of the suggestion, at the close of the article, that other departments of the administration are about as inefficient.

In April 1922, when the preparations were afoot for the re-establishment of a Chinese Administration at Tsingtao, Dr. C. T. Wang, then in charge of the re-organization of the Tsingtao Administration, appointed a foreign expert as Inspector of the Railway Police and Chief Military Instructor for the Police Training School at Fangtze. Two Companies of the Peking "Pao An Tui" were also sent to serve as guards along the Railway. The general conduct and behavior of these men has been excellent, and they performed their duties admirably under very difficult circumstances. This was, no doubt, partly because the advice of the foreign Inspector and Chief Military Instructor, as to their duties, control and management, was, in those early days, always taken and if possible followed.

Before long, however, difficulties presented themselves. The Military Instructor's plans of training were ignored, and he was allowed no direct authority, even to correct the most flagrant errors; and his remonstrances to the Chief of the Training School and even to Dr. C. T. Wang himself, were without effect. When 600 of the locally recruited police were "graduated" from the school in November 1922, the Chief Military Instructor had to report to Dr. Wang that only 200 were, in the Instructor's opinion, qualified for serious work. It was noted as a curious fact that the great majority of these 200 comparatively well trained men were Manchus, descendants of the Manchu garrison troops at Chingchow.

When the actual transfer of the Administration of Tsingtao was effected, the following forces were sent down to police Tsingtao:

- (1) The above-mentioned 600 men from the Fangtze School;
- (2) 1,000 soldiers from Tsingtao, uniformed as police, but as unprepared for police duties as one would expect the average Chinese soldier to be;
- (3) 200 men locally recruited at the last moment, with no training whatever;
- (4) 400 so-called Water Police, trained for a few months in Chiaofo.

Of these 2,000 men not more than 200 were really fit for their duties. The 600 men from Fangtze had 300 rifles amongst them, and most of these were useless. At a shooting practice held a few days before the transfer of the Administration, it was found that in most of the rifles the empty cartridge cases jammed in the barrel after each shot, and the rifles consequently could not be reloaded until after several minutes' hard work. The authorities realized the futility and danger of sending down such badly equipped force to Tsingtao, and they applied to the Japanese Government for the purchase of new rifles, but these new rifles were not supplied until after December 10, the force that came down on December 1 to take over the policing of Tsingtao being consequently practically unarmed, and only a small part of it trained. This needs to be kept in mind, for it appears quite clear that if the Chinese authorities had taken the trouble to train and equip the police force properly, which certainly could have been done, the subsequent disgraceful episodes would never have occurred.

These episodes are notorious: how the bandits simply overran Tsingtao, and how the Chinese officials, during the first few days, displayed nothing but cowardice and inefficiency. Exactly what negotiations took place between the Chinese authorities, the Tsingtao Chinese Chamber of Commerce, and the bandits is not known; nor is it known exactly what part the Japanese, officially or unofficially, played; but it is common knowledge that the transfer had to be postponed from December 1 to 10, and that the bandits had to be bribed to keep quiet by being enrolled in the army. For a month or so the bandits kept quiet, but one day some of them had a serious row with some Chinese and Japanese in an auction room, when several people were wounded, a Japanese policeman being amongst the number. The Japanese complained on duty and passing the time by chatting with any chance acquaintance who happens to pass by; (5) there are constant complaints of rudeness and hostility, both to Chinese and to foreigners, especially the latter; (6) the whole machinery of the Police Administration is patently slow and inefficient.

It was taken for granted that, if or the first of the month, the transfer had died down, the Chinese authorities would set to work and do their very best to partition the city in no better case than they were in when they first assumed office. The Governor, General Hsiang Ping-chi, appointed an Inspector of Police, the same foreigner who had tried to train the police for their duties and had been so thwarted; but the Inspector received no instructions whatever regarding his work, and it was only after a month's pestering that he received "permission" to report to the Chief of Police what he considered to be the deficiencies of the force, who, in the performance of his duties or in his general behavior. But even this was a useless concession, for the Inspector's reports were neglected, no notice was taken either of his advice or of his criticisms, and the result is the present deplorable condition of the Tsingtao police force: (1) the uniforms of the force are in rags; (2) the new rifles are rapidly becoming unserviceable as the old ones; (3) the police fall hopelessly in the regulation of the traffic; (4) there is no discipline, the members of the force smoking cigarettes whilst on duty and passing the time by chatting with any chance acquaintance who happens to pass by; (5) there are constant complaints of rudeness and hostility, both to Chinese and to foreigners, especially the latter; (6) the whole machinery of the Police Administration is patently slow and inefficient.

The faulty administration of the police is a matter that forces itself upon everybody; but there is reason to believe, and indeed abundant evidence, that other departments of the administration are about as inefficient.

Have Peace Of Mind Rather Than Ill-Gotten Wealth

BY J. J. MUNDY

Is it not true that, seeing the comforts and ways of enjoyment permitted to some who have come by their money dishonestly, you are tempted to accept the first opportunity you have for material gain and almost conclude not to be over scrupulous about it? But would you give up a life-long peace of mind for anything money buys? Would you be willing to have the thought that the comfort you enjoy are the results of unfair methods in dealing with your fellow men? Could you truly enjoy yourself knowing that you are getting this so-called pleasure at the expense of others—taking what does not belong to you? Rid yourself of the thought that money gained dishonestly is worth the mental suffering entailed; also get rid of the thought that all who have money have gained it dishonestly. Decide that you will have peace of mind rather than riches if you must gauge another in order to gain money and position.

Birth Control And Religion

BY ALBAN G. WIDGERY
(Cambridge University Lecturer in the Philosophy of Religion; late Professor of Philosophy and Comparative Religion, Baroda; author of "Jesus in the Nineteenth Century and After.")

"Immortality, and Other Essays."
Race progress and individual happiness depend in no small measure on recognition of the significance of the appearance of new human beings. In differing degrees religions have endeavored to keep before men's minds the mystery of human birth. To the religious, whether religious minister or layman, it is important to come to some decision as to the attitude to be adopted towards the teaching and practice of contraception. For it is evident that this subject has now been given the prominence of public consideration from their part in which religious thinkers cannot worthily escape.

The grounds of opposition from the side of religion, as usually conceived, are such as deserve serious consideration. It is urged: that a tendency to excess in births ought to be met by inner control, by the efforts of the moral will, supported by the sanctions and grace of religion. But the knowledge of methods of contraception does not lessen the necessity nor minimize the opportunity for such control. In fact, it makes the control more genuinely moral. For, without such knowledge, abstinence is often through fear of the possible bad consequences; with it, abstinence must be from the motive of obtaining the positively good advantages which thereby accrue.

FAMILY LIFE
Religions have sometimes admitted forms of prostitution in their practices, but far more often they have championed a strong respect for a healthy family life. Thus it is contended that the family will be harmed in that the knowledge and use of contraceptives will tend to increase illicit intercourse. But here again the chief weapon against misconduct must be moral and religious training, and the next the opportunity for entering on a married life without the deterring fear of a too rapidly increasing family.

Religions have often represented birth as due to divine will. This has been a teaching of Christians especially. So there are those who maintain that whether there is to be conception or not should be left to God. Contraceptives are regarded as an interference with divine laws. God has allowed the developing intelligence of man to attain the knowledge of contraceptives. It is reasonable to assume that that knowledge is capable of a good use. It can undoubtedly be abused: here lies the scope for continued moral discrimination and control. But contraceptives are not always successful: as a Faral medical doctor put it: "There is one door of which God keeps the key." Many have learned through their failures that God "knew better than they." But that does not imply that use of the knowledge should be abandoned.

CHRISTIANITY & CHILDREN

In all ages and climes mankind has had and has a love of children. Christianity in the fervor and warmth of its Christmas festival has woven around infancy a sacred charm. One genuinely central motive in the advocacy and much of the actual use of contraceptives is the love of the children already born, or in due time to be born. This motive is at the root of the desire to ensure not only the physical requirements for good health, including as the earliest the health and strength of the mother, but also the loving attention of the parents and all that a good education implies. The love of the children—a truly religious motive—is a very definite ground in many instances for the limitation of the family. It is not surprising if celibate priests urge that even the discussion of these things in a manner in which enjoyment and happiness is recognized as coming from the satisfaction of sexual desires, is to arouse passions and to strengthen men's instinct towards sensuous pleasures, thus leading them more and more from the spiritual. The danger is real. It is, however, no more real from sound instruction on sex matters, and it is far less pernicious than from indecent gossip or literature. The need for the minister of religion to encourage purity or encourage purity of thought, word, and deed, and to promote all that is spiritual is neither lessened nor increased by the spread of modern knowledge.

HUMAN PROGRESS

For many religion includes faith in human progress, socially and culturally no less than individually and spiritually. To strive against any condition which tends to hinder progress has therefore a religious significance. The disproportionate increase of the ill-nourished, diseased, and defective, whether physically or mentally, must hinder progress. In such spheres no great result can be expected from simple moral control: it may be doubted whether with the knowledge of contraceptives it would be much, unless this is given in a very practical way and on a wide scale. To assist in the task may reasonably be regarded as conforming with a religious belief in progress. But there does not appear to be anything religious in the Dean of St. Paul's advocacy that the lower classes should be urged to practice contraception. Rather his motive seems to be a fear that the proletariat will otherwise overwhelm the upper classes and crush out the somewhat pagan type of aristocratic culture for which he stands.

PREVENTING SUFFERING

The relief of suffering has been a feature of most of the higher religions. Some few Christians still regard means to alleviate the sufferings of women in child-birth as an interference with the working of a primitive curse, but the majority undoubtedly welcome and approve means to diminish unnecessary and useless suffering. Through contraception women in disease and weak health, who might otherwise bear infants doomed to disease, and early death, can be spared untold suffering. To assist in such redemption is surely a religious act.

There is one last objection. It is contended that the effects on the users of methods of prevention are worse than any from which they enable mankind to escape. If that is so, we have a religious duty to fight them to the utmost. But if the gains are greater, we are equally under religious obligation to promote their rational use. On the question of the physical effects, medical opinion seems divided. It is not for us to dogmatize: but a general survey of the subject, including its religious aspects, has led the writer to the conviction that constructive birth control gives a new ray of hope for humanity.

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges. Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish have been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where disintegration and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty. 1 Imperial Gallon covers about 150 square yards one coat. Shanghai & Hongkong

Variation Of The Magnetic Pole

BY GARRETT P. SERVINS

"To what is variation of the magnetic pole due? According to Professor McMillan the magnetic pole consists of a small area located on terra firma, which being a magnetic deposit I cannot clearly understand why it could have an annual variation.—J. S. W., West Lynn, Mass."

Strictly speaking, variation of the magnetic meridian, i.e. of the direction in which the magnetic needle points with reference to the geographical meridian, or the north-and-south line running through the place where the observer is stationed. It does not necessarily mean a change of place of the magnetic pole itself, although some slow change of that kind may occur.

The unfortunate term "declination" is applied to the departure in direction of the magnetic meridian, east or west from the geographical meridian, whereas in astronomical geography the same term means departure north or south of the equator, the sun for instance having a northern "declination" of so or so many degrees with it is north of the equator.

The word "pole" is also somewhat confusing, as used in terrestrial magnetism. The earth is said to have two magnetic poles, one in the northern and the other in the southern hemisphere. But, not only are these magnetic poles divergent in their nature and their position from the geographical poles of the earth around which the earth rotates, but they are also quite different from the poles of an artificial magnet, such as magnetic needle, or a bar magnet.

The earth has correctly enough been described as a great magnet. But it is a spherical magnet, and its true poles of magnetism, instead of being situated at the opposite ends of an axis, running through the center, may better be described as lying close together in the center of the earth, though they do, each on its own side of the center, produce phenomena which lead to the selection of certain points as representing the poles of the earth's magnetism.

the magnet equator to the magnetic poles.

It is not correct to speak of an area as constituting the magnetic pole, or of its being a "magnetic deposit." There are scattered over the earth many local magnetic poles, caused probably by magnetic deposits, but the two principal poles are an expression of the magnetic activity of the earth as a whole. It is due to local influences that the magnetic meridians are anything but straight lines like the geographic ones, but these meridians have, as a whole, a tendency to long period variation, which may be connected with some shifting of

for Infants and Children.
Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen. We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupify and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria.
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SHAFER, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always with the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and effective laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDNER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in no practice and have no hesitations in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOERNER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.
